Autumn Weddings Are Solemnized

JAMISON — McBRIEN
The home of the bridegroom's parents in Calgary, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Monday, October 9th, at 3 o'clock, when Jane Steele, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McBrien of Rosebud, became the bride of Mr. Robert Lloyd Jamison, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jamison. Rev. Douglas Telfer of Wesley United Church performed the ceremony, which was attended by relatives from Rosebud, Vulcan, Nanton and Calgary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ferguson. She was attractively attired in an afternoon gown of teal blue, fashioned with a high neck line, a full bustle-effect skirt, trimmed in old gold. She wore a coronet of sweetheart roses and lilies-of-the-valley in her hair, and carried a bouquet of Madam Butterfly roses. Her only ornament was a wrist watch, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Lyl Jones of Vulcan, as matron of honor, was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was of jasper blue, fully pleated, and like the bride's dress, trimmed in old gold. She wore small clusters of sweetheart roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Arnold Jamison was his brother's best man.

The wedding was solemnized in front of the fireplace, banked with carnations and ferns. During the signing of the register, Mr. Ralph Jamison, brother of the groom, sang "O Promise Me."

At a reception held later at the York Hotel, the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother received. Mrs. McBrien wore a gown of black sheer and a corsage of deep red roses. Mrs. Jamison chose a plum velvet gown and she wore red roses.

A profusion of autumn flowers was used in decorating the reception room and also on the bride's table, which was centred by the wedding cake. Forty relatives and close friends attended the reception.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Jamison left on a motor trip through the mountains, and to several American cities, the bride wearing a black herringbone tailored suit, with hat and accessories to match. The young couple will reside in Vulcan.

SCOTT — McCLIMENT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McMillan was the scene of a quiet wedding on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 8th, at 5 o'clock, when Mary Isabelle, youngest daughter of Mrs. D. McClement and the late Mr. D. McClement, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Gordon Scott, son of Mr. O. Scott of Travers, Alberta.

Rev. M. Dobson performed the ceremony under a white canopy centred with a wedding bell and flanked on either side with tall white pedestals, each holding a vase of deep pink carnations.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white point de-esprit lace over taffeta. The veil of shoulder length fell gracefully from a halo of lily of the valley and she carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride and groom were unattended. The bride's mother was dressed in a figured black silk gown and wore a corsage of talisman roses.

After the wedding a buffet luncheon was served and the bride cut the lovely three-tier wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Scott left later for a trip to Banff and Calgary, the bride travelling in a smart navy blue tailleur with tile rust accessories. On their return they will reside in Vulcan.

Relatives and friends present at the ceremony were Mr. O. Scott, Travers; Miss Ruth Scott, Travers; Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield and baby daughter of Travers; Mr. and Mrs. C. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McMillan, Mr. C. Layman, Miss A. Bantin, Mrs. B. D. Lockhart, Rev. M. Dobson and Mrs. A. McIver. During the afternoon and evening Mrs. McMillan was assisted by Mrs. Lockhart and Mrs. Melver.

VAUGHN — FRASER

On Friday, October 6th at 7.30 p.m. a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. S. A. Fraser of Pincher Creek, when his second daughter, Marion Ellen, became the bride of Mr. Theron Valentine Vaughn, only son of Mrs. Vaughn and the late Mr. A. C. Vaughn of Vulcan.

Calgary Units In 1st-2nd Divisions

It was announced on Monday that Calgary's eight units of the Canadian Active Service Force are all mobilizing as divisional, corps or army troops with the First Canadian Division and Second Division. It is expected that all Calgary units will go overseas when the two divisions are dispatched from Canada.

Most Vulcan recruits joined the 91st Battery, R.C.A. which is included in the divisional troops of the second division. It is expected that the units will be dispatched from Canada next spring.

High River Times Awarded Shield

The High River Times, published by Charles Clark, was awarded the shield for the best weekly newspaper in Alberta with a circulation over 750 at the annual convention of the Alberta Division, Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, held in Edmonton Friday and Saturday of last week. The Coleman Journal, published by H. T. Halliwell, president of the Dominion association, was awarded the shield in the under 750 circulation class which was held by The Advocate last year. The shields are put up for annual competition by the Grain and Milling Advertising Service of Winnipeg. The H. G. McCrea Memorial trophy for the best editorial page was given to the paper the late Mr. McCrea published—the Hanna Herald. It is now published by members of his family, including Miss Hazel McCrea, secretary-treasurer of the Alberta association.

Harry J. Ford of Lacombe, was elected president of the Alberta division, succeeding R. C. Jessup of Macleod. R. L. King, of Claresholm, was elected first vice-president.

FREIGHT RATES ON WHEAT

The ocean freight rate on British steamers from St. Lawrence ports has been fixed at 10c a bushel for wheat and 9 1/2-3c a bushel for corn for full cargoes to an English port. The rate for wheat from American gulf ports is 12c, from Australia 24 1/2c, and from Argentina 17 1/2c. These rates are fixed apparently on the basis that the British navy will convey the steamers on their voyage to the United Kingdom. Broomhall says that United States corn can be shipped to England for 75c a bushel under convoy, which would be a saving of 20c a bushel compared with the cost of shipping Argentina corn to Antwerp and carrying a risk in insurance.

Seaforth Highlanders can hang on to their kilts, despite changes being made in general uniforms.

Rev. Robert Magowan officiated. Mrs. C. Taysum played the bridal music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a smart rust afternoon dress with matching accessories. Corsage of talisman roses completed her ensemble. Her only attendant was Miss Agnes Gillespie, who wore an afternoon dress of hunter green with matching accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Lawrence Diamond.

During the signing of the register Miss Jessie Fraser sang "Because."

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served to fifty guests. The bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake, banked with smilax and prettily decorated with pink and white carnations and tall tapers. Presiding at the table were Mrs. W. A. Fraser and Mrs. J. Gillespie assisted by Misses Edith Bailey and Margaret Cameron, Mrs. L. H. Allison and Mrs. E. W. Evans.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. V. Vaughn, mother of the groom; and Mrs. M. B. Greenlee, grandmother of the groom, both of Vulcan. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Upton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Upton, Miss Jean Upton and Mr. R. Marchant, all of Blairmore. Mrs. H. A. Tuff of Lethbridge, Miss Jean Fraser and Phyllis Hart of Milk River.

After a short visit to Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn will reside at Pincher Creek.

THE VILLAGE PUMP

A restful scene at Brant. As the world wages war, old Bossy pauses at the village pump, drinks—and ambles on. In this world of change the village pump still survives, ministering to the thirst of all who pass that way.

Canadian Red Cross Financed Hospitals and Ambulance Units in Addition to Regular Work

With the recent organization in Vulcan of a branch of the Red Cross Society, a summary of the history, objects and methods of the Society will be of local interest.

Red Cross is a permanent organization of national societies with more than 15 million adult members in 65 countries, recognized under the Geneva convention and by international agreement as the sole body which becomes in war time an auxiliary of the Army Medical Corps. As such, it is the agent to which requests for supplies, materials and assistance are directed by the Corps which cares for the sick and wounded of the national forces.

Through a permanent international committee, with offices in Geneva, it remains in war time the communication channel through which information about missing persons, prisoners of war and other nationals in foreign belligerent states are located, identified, supplied with food, clothing and other supplies, and exchanged despite

Mrs. Jack Marshall, president, was in the chair and opened the meeting in the usual manner. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. Clark. A large attendance is expected for the annual election of officers.

Volunt'y Registration Canadian Women Now Under Way

Co-operation of Women Regarded as of Benefit in Nation-wide Scheme

The Southern Alberta committee for voluntary registration of Canadian women report very satisfactory progress in organization.

Mrs. S. J. Shepherd who is organizer for the southern part of the province, has secured the co-operation of the following women to act as general conveners of these federal ridings: Miss Barbara Kennedy of Macleod

The week of October 23rd to 28th is National Week for the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women. Mrs. Vern McLeod is in charge of this work for the Vulcan district. All women between the ages of 16 and 65 wishing to register are invited to call at Mrs. McLeod's home and fill out the questionnaire which has been prepared.

federal riding; Mrs. J. J. Dow of Red Deer for Red Deer federal riding; Miss Hazel McCrea of the Hanna Herald for Acadia federal riding; Mrs. M. G. Dower is organizer for Calgary East and Calgary West and Bow River, federal district.

The sub-conveners appointed to date are as follows:

Mrs. T. W. Robertson, High River sub-district; Mrs. Lineham, Okotoks; Mrs. Morton (post office) Midnapore district; Mrs. Dyson Phelps, Turner Valley; Mrs. M. W. Pegler, Millerville; Miss Mary Morrison, Cochrane; Mrs. W. Barr Murray, Morley. It is hoped that any women (especially in the more isolated districts) who can give her services to this organization work, will write to the convenor of her district and offer her support. Help put the V.R.C.W. over with a bang.

The V.R.C.W. is entirely voluntary. It is a free-will offering from the women of Canada to their country. There is no compulsion about obtaining the registration. No woman is asked to register if she does not want to do so. There will be no record of women who do not register.

Canadian women's qualifications in war service, registered through the channels of the V.R.C.W., Calgary.

Already the government has called upon the V.R.C.W. in Eastern Canada for information gained through the registration of women. Recently 15 women interpreters were needed while others were sought to turn out soldiers' uniforms in a large factory. Through the questionnaire, women may be located for all manner of service.

Voluntary Registration

THE plan of Voluntary Registration of Canadian women for national emergencies, is engaging the women of this province. It is a very commendable plan and when all the data obtained is compiled, there should be information on hand of ages, occupations, ambitions and training of the women of the province and of the Dominion. But in order to make this data complete, all women should fill out the questionnaire. Quite a proportion will feel that they have very little to contribute. They will have to answer "No" to so many of the questions. But even the negative answers will be valuable because when everything is assembled it will be possible to group the women into various classes. Those who possess no specialized training may be guided later in work within their power to do. The important thing is to get as complete a coverage of the feminine population as is possible and the rural women no less than townspeople. To that end, it is hoped that all in this locality will do their part in filling out the questionnaires.

It should be kept clearly in mind that this information will—or at any rate should—be equally invaluable for peace time co-ordination. The purpose is not limited to the war period, though it does seem that organizing ability fails to tackle peace-time problems with the same energy that characterizes war-time endeavors.

The registration deserves the co-operation of all women, young or old, peaceful or belligerent, talented or just ordinary. The information will help to organize with efficiency, the productive ability of the women of the land in the present situation, and it will extend also beyond the period of war service. It will provide a catalogue which should be an aid in the proper placement of women in any subsequent expansion of national industry, or in any subsequent period of unemployment. Do not neglect to fill in the questionnaire when opportunity comes. It is a service in the interest of Canadian citizenship.

Grants to Help Students

ALL those interested in giving encouragement to ambitious students will read with satisfaction of the federal-provincial plan to provide scholarships for the deserving. These scholarships will aid the needy student in continuing his education, and will thereby develop a national asset, which might otherwise never reach full fruition.

Five provinces are taking up this scheme in co-operation with the Dominion Dept. of Labor. These are British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island. The Manitoba government leads all others in providing scholarships. The sum of $20,000 has been set aside for assistance to University students; high school students and students in correspondence courses. Forty scholarships of $325 each are available for rural students at University and sixteen scholarships of $135 for the Winnipeg students. The high school scholarships are in smaller figures.

Alberta's start is $4000 which it has been announced will give aid varying from $50 to $150 to 23 freshmen and 30 undergraduates. The distribution is made on a joint basis of academic standing and financial need. The University of Alberta committee gave long consideration before making its selection from the many applications received.

It is planned that the scheme will gradually be extended. In 1939-40 there will be 300 students benefited by the scholarships in the five contributing provinces. In the following year there will be 500 and the succeeding year 700.

This is a start on the principle of helping the deserving before the flame of ambition is dimmed. Hitherto there has been great waste of youthful ability, through the fact that those who would make the greatest use of educational opportunity, are often financially unable to advance. In our own town there have been examples of hard-working, gifted students who succeeded in graduating from high school, but were barred by circumstances from continuing farther. No jobs are available in any small town that permit of any substantial saving, and under the cloud of continued frustration, the once promising youth who might have contributed richly to some scientific field, lapses into an indifferent laborer. This waste of human ability has been a blot on our times. Many who have neither ambition nor ability have been crowding universities only to drop out before graduation. Many with ambition and ability have never reached fulfillment of their powers.

Viewing this waste in human society which has been acute in recent years, one has often felt that service clubs, lodges or individual philanthropists could have benefited Canada greatly by establishing loaning funds for the encouragement of carefully selected students. With the co-operation and advice of conscientious high school teachers, there would be little risk of bad loans, and what a reward such philanthropy would have brought to those participating.

However, the federal-provincial governments have launched their scholarship plan which is not a loan but a gift. Eventually it is possible that a loaning scheme may augment the scholarships, something in the nature of the old loan to Normal students which proved as good an investment as a government ever made.

Pertinent Topics

DISCUSSED BY H. C.

The Canadian National Brotherhood serves notice there shall be no unification or amalgamation of the railways either for patriotic or economic reasons. Indeed? Who gave the brotherhood authority to say what shall or shall not be done, during the war, for patriotic or economic reasons? Mr. Duplessis has already given defiance, and the Brotherhood follows suit. This might be an opportune time for some one in Ottawa to say a few words, or, better still, take one definite step to indicate that they will not allow anyone, no matter how powerful, to challenge its authority. Soldiers are not enlisting at $1.30 a day to ensure the Brotherhood that its personnel, privileges and pay are to be maintained.

The government may make bold to do now what it feared to do before. It may decide that a burden grievous enough before must be lightened now that extraordinary military expenditures have to be met. What will the Brotherhood do then? Declare a strike? It would not be a bad idea. The government then could handle the situation under the War Measures Act and thus solve one part of our railway problem, and at the same time teach the Brotherhood not to speak out of turn. All that would be required is courage and some forgetfulness of political consequences, and necessity may furnish both, and compel the opposition to lend its quota of the requirements.

There was no excuse whatever for the press interviews given by Lindbergh or Ford. Each one is wealthy enough to afford a guardian.

It was different with Coughlin. He was making money out of his talks though he would gladly give them for nothing just to vent his spleen against Britain and Roosevelt and gratify his craving for publicity. We use the past tense because a stopper is being placed on his microphone mouth.

Lloyd George is another man who should place himself under guardianship every time he wishes to make a speech or write letters. It was unchivalrous of him to attack the late governments of Czechoslovakia and Poland and mischievous of him to criticize the Chamberlain government for the manner in which it proposes to meet Nazi offers for peace. In peace time he taunted Chamberlain for not showing fight; now that Chamberlain is fighting he fears the Premier may be too resolute.

War after all, is a breeding ground for peace. It brought Hitler and Stalin together; Roosevelt and Al Smith, MacKenzie King and Mitchell Hepburn.

In the argot of the underworld, a "fence", is a receiver of stolen goods. That is the capacity in which Josef Stalin operates. He made a rich haul in Poland. Hitler stole the goods but the fence took more than the usual commission. He was on the spot with sufficient force to make sure of his split. Now he tells the robber to go and hints to the police and the prospective victims that if they resist he will forsake the more respectable role and join the robber. In the meantime a pal of the robber who had elected to stay out of this venture is wondering whether he was wise. He does not object to the robbery, but like all robbers, he dislikes the fence. Maybe he thinks that if he had gone in, the fence would have stayed out. If he does, he doesn't know the fence.

When the Warsaw garrison surrendered the officers were permitted to retain their swords. It is a traditional symbol of honorable surrender, but were the officers carrying swords? During the other war, no soldier was killed by a sword, although one may have injured himself by tripping over it.

When the United States came into the war in 1917, civilian clerks in the War Department had to go into uniform. (The same was true of the Militia Department at Ottawa). Some one in Washington asked Senator Cannon one day at the club "Why the hell are these fellows wearing spurs?" and Joe said it was so that their feet would not slide off the roll-top desks.

"You can't pass me," said the young recruit
To the medical officer, Major Butts.
"Why not?" said the Doc, "I think you'll suit."
"No chance," said the lad, "I have no guts."

"What kind of a war is this?" asks one of Lord Beaverbrook's papers. Well, it is the war that he said would not take place this year.

Fritz Kuhn, the blatant Bund fuerher in the United States, is under arrest for theft of Bund funds, probably the least objectionable of his Bund activities. The Nazis are not happy in their leaders but they have no choice. The man who starts a racket takes care to be at the head.

Funny thing that the Germans should drop bombs on Scotland where the people are proverbially disposed to accept anything that is free.

There may not be anything in that story that Parson Neomiller had offered to take charge of a submarine. The story emanated from Berlin but might be designed to influence his co-religionists. If true, it goes to show the hardships of confinement in a concentration camp that one who had experience in a submarine during the other war should seek escape by volunteering to serve in a submarine again, for of all the services there is none quite so cheerless and dangerous as the unterseebooten.

It must be an awful life. On sea, or land or air there are chances of escape, but undersea, the chances are very slim. The sailors live in cramped quarters with poor ventilation and every move they make is hazardous. Toward the close of the other war they had to be driven and finally they mutinied. It is worse now, for the methods for trapping them have been improved.

Senator Borah may be right when he says that the enemy may not wait until American-made arms are on the sea, but may bring the war into the United States with bombs and sabotage. He cannot expect the enemy to come over here to do it, so he must expect that the enemy is there now. What he must have in mind is the Nazi organization in his own country. It is a humiliating admission. What it implies is that Congress had better be careful what it does because there are alien enemies in our midst. It implies that the policy of the United States must be framed in such a way that an alien organization engineered and financed by a foreign country will not retaliate. It is as if some responsible British statesman should advise that Britain go slow in her foreign policy for fear of reprisals from the I.R.A.

If the United States has reason to be fearful of Nazi hostilities from within, where would that country stand if Britain and France were defeated, and Germany controlled the Atlantic? Yet the Senator leads the fight against a change in the neutrality laws although, perhaps because it would help Britain and France. He has reason to fear Nazi activities. It was by boring first from within that Hitler managed to absorb Austria and conquer Czechoslovakia and Poland. The same process is going on in the United States to such an extent that the Senator fears it will make itself manifest in bombings and sabotage if Congress amends the law in a way that may antagonize Germany. The argument he uses against the amendments is one that should constrain him to vote for them.

News and Views From Other Papers

The Cook and the Criminal (Cornwall Standard-Freeholder)

Is there a direct relation between bad cooking and bad conduct? Zion's Herald, a periodical published at Boston in the interests of the Methodist Church, thinks there is. It asserts in a recent issue that a startling number of souls in the history of the world have been damned by bad food; and it makes a plea for "better cooking in the interest of Christian progress." "Half cooked food, tough meats, poorly seasoned vegetables, soggy pies and doctored puddings are," it says, "forcing men to an irritability that prompts them to leave him, to abandon the church and become criminals."

The Herald does not spare even the church. "All too often," it says, "the church 'social' or the Men's Club banquet has driven the spiritual thermometer of professing Christians below zero."

Not For Everyone (Vernon News)

Refusal by His Honor J. D. Swanson to grant naturalization papers to some German citizens in the neighborhood of Kelowna is easily understandable. Canada is at war and subjects of enemy powers, though they may be loyal to Canada, are a trifle late in making application to enjoy all the privileges of citizenship in the dominion.

War time is a poor time to trade loyalties, or to secure rights which should not easily be conferred. Citizenship in Canada is a privilege which many subjects of enemy powers have been long in seeking. It will do them no harm to wait a little longer, nor will it do Canada any ill to be slow in conferring the rights and privileges of citizenship.

Canada is now the homeland of many subjects of foreign powers who are permitted full freedom for so long as they conduct themselves as loyal citizens of this land. Indulgence in activities, the nature of which is open to question, is unwise, for it is likely to be followed by a swift alteration in treatment and by marked curtailment of liberties.

BEHIND THE LINES (Provost News)

Now that Canada is at war, it is interesting to note that it has been calculated that for each soldier in uniform in the battle areas there are required about 20 people working at all kinds of occupations, giving all kinds of services, to supply each fighting man with all his needs, and unless the services done by these hosts of non-combatants are done well and done promptly, the ability of the front line soldier eventually to achieve victory is greatly hampered. Those who are "carrying on" with the essential work of providing armies with all they need are truly making a vitally important contribution in the service of their country.

That being so, it stands to reason that the better all this work is done and the more efficiently it is conducted, then the greater will be the chance of victory.

Smokers Rank As Public Enemy No. 1

Carelessness With Cigarettes
Has Multiplied As Cause of Disastrous Fire Losses

In 13,719 instances last year, smokers were careless and caused $2,427,000 worth of property to go up in smoke. Fires from this cause are top ranking in the list of causes, as reported to the Dominion Fire Commissioner's office for 1938. Ten years ago this type of fire numbered slightly less than 3,000 for the whole of Canada. But with a steady increase in the number of smokers, principally among the fair sex, there appears also to have developed an indifference to the hazards of fire from carelessly disposed cigarettes, tobacco and matches that is hardly imaginable. With an increase of 430% in the number of fires from this cause, "Smokers' carelessness" can now be classed as Public Enemy No. 1 as far as fires are concerned. The question arises, are women more careless than men in the matter of smoking? Unfortunately, there are not statistics to enlighten us on this score, but the fact remains that far too many fires are started through the carelessness of smokers and only a careful disposition of cigarettes, matches and tobacco can stop it. Perhaps if these nearly 14,000 people responsible for this loss could be gathered together in one place and could witness nearly 2½ millions of dollars worth of property go up in smoke with the cries of several entrapped persons mingling with the crackling of the flames, they would exercise more care in their smoking habits.

Peril of Gasoline

If people could only realize that a gallon of gasoline properly vaporized has the explosive force of 82 pounds of dynamite, they would exercise more care in its use. Gasoline should never be used in the house for dry cleaning purposes. Wouldn't it be cheaper to send clothes out to be cleaned than to risk being burned to death in an explosion of the fumes should be come in contact with flames? Even the very act of cleaning clothes in gasoline develops static electricity which is liable to set off the fumes without warning. This has often happened too when floors are cleaned with gasoline.

It may not be generally known but it is nevertheless a fact that in most provinces in Canada a fire insurance policy may be rendered null and void if more than one quart of gasoline is kept in a building without special permit. And even that limit must be kept in a tightly closed metal can—never in a glass bottle.

Alta. World Record For Hailstorms

Hail storms occur in many parts of the world, and the loss in dollars and cents to agriculture each year is quite a substantial sum. The severe hail storm, like the tornado, is always small, but it represents such a concentration of fury, and the destruction it causes is so complete, that it is always dreaded.

Alberta is a province that is peculiarly susceptible to hail damage. Meteorologists of repute maintain that more hail storms occur in that province than in any other province or state throughout the world. It is difficult to explain why this should be.

Hail is formed in the turbulent region at the front of a thunder storm, according to Dr. W. J. Humphreys of the United States Weather Bureau. The air currents in the van of such a storm are always in violent commotion upward and downward between relatively cold and warm regions of the atmosphere. As the moisture is carried upward it is congealed into the frozen particles known as hail. Hail may be swept upward in front of a storm several times before it finally drops to the earth. Each time it rises to the height it receives a fresh coating of ice. That is why large hail stones frequently show several alternate layers.—Country Life in B.C.

Great Britain's new army is looking forward to better rations than in the old days. Meat, vegetables, bacon and cheese replace the old bully-beef, with cigarettes and tobacco a weekly issue. They will have eight kinds of jam, instead of the old plum and apple.

Mr. Merchant: If your stock of counter sales books is getting low why not order a new supply now before prices advance? Delivery can be made at any date up to 60 days and the placing of your order now will protect you against a price rise. You save nothing by ordering through a travelling salesman—our prices are positively the lowest and express charges are prepaid. Just phone 36. The Vulcan Advocate, and we will gladly call on you.

Alberta Limitations Bill Disallowed By Ottawa

Alberta Statute Revising
Previous Measure, Decided by Ottawa to be of Con-
fiscatory Nature

Alberta's second statute of limitations, which penalized collections of private debts was disallowed by the Ottawa government. The previous act passed two years ago was also disallowed, and the present act meeting the same fate, differed very slightly from the original. The confiscatory nature of the legislation is the reported ground for disallowance.

The later amendment disallowed, would outlaw all debt contracted prior to July 1, 1936, unless action for recovery was started prior to July 1, 1940 or the debts revived by new agreement. The 1939 act was considered to be more objectionable than the 1938 act as presumably a large number of renewal agreements had been completed and signed by honest debtors and many allegedly dishonest debtors had refused to sign such agreements. The bill was considered to be discriminatory in that it granted protection of the act to allegedly dishonest debtors who have refused to sign agreements while honest debtors who had signed agreements were considered to be outside its ambit.

Rumors of a moratorium on private debts are unconfirmed and would seem unjustifiable, in view of the fairly good crops, and the other machinery at work to adjust claims.

Twelve Services For Boy Scouts

In this time of national emergency, the provincial and district councils of the Boy Scouts Association have devised a plan whereby members of Scout Troops may serve their country in various capacities. The plan does not call for military service, nor for any duties beyond the capabilities of the boys.

Scouts must be fourteen years of age and must have qualified for at least their Second Class badge. The application form states that duties will not interfere with the boy's education and consent of parents must be obtained.

Classifications of service are: messenger (verbally, signalling or cycling), pathfinding, panic prevention, first aid, public health, Red Cross, meeting troop trains and acting as guides, meeting trains of returning sick and wounded, aiding at refreshment booths, ushering at patriotic meetings, working on farms during school holidays when necessary, helping wives and families of soldiers overseas by doing chores and running errands.

The public is invited.

Crerar Represents Canada Resources

Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of natural resources, will be Canada's representative to Britain in the conference of the British Empire which is to be held shortly. The purpose is to ensure the most effective co-ordination of war effort, between the dominions and England.

Mr. Crerar, as minister of Canadian resources, is the logical man to represent Canada.

The exact date of conference has not been fixed. A fuller knowledge of the resources and problems of each dominion will be gained, and thus facilitate the war progress. All contributions will be co-ordinated.

Off Stage Sounds For Amateur Plays

An amateur dramatic company wanted to reproduce some sound effects through a microphone, so they made a few inquiries, and they ended up with a long list of ideas. Here are just a few of them:

For producing the sounds of a fire, crackle cellophane near the microphone.

Sound of a man hitting golf ball; snap fingers.

Sound of a duel to death: simply strike a knife and fork together.

To get the effect of a man talking in a cavern: the actor should say his lines into a large drinking glass.

Horse galloping: beat your chest with palm of the hands in a hoofbeat rhythm.

Rain: let sand trickle on cellophane, tightly drawn.

Feet walking in mud; get some half-cooked spaghetti, and change it from hand to hand with a floppy sound.

Train puffing out of station: blow on to microphone, short puffs gradually increasing in speed.

Australian soldiers will get $1.50 a day overseas and $1.25 a day before embarkation.

Both Have It Hard
(Smith Falls Record)

Someone has raised the question as to the difficulties of a clergyman's occupation. Some still seems to think that the men of the cloth have a pretty time of it. Nothing could be further from the truth as anyone who has had close associations with the clergy will agree. He is called upon to do a thousand and one things. He is at the beck and call of every church goer. He has a hundred and one different types of people to deal with and he must at the same time be an intellectual superior. Easy? In our opinion next to editing a weekly newspaper the minister has about the toughest time.

Harvest Gangs Are Now Harder To Come By

Threshing Outfits Have Their Troubles in Season of Unsettled Weather

The ins and outs of the current season have been discouraging to owners of threshing outfits and to the workmen. There have been several occasions since Sept. 4, when gangs were got together to make a start the next day. And next day it rained. Employers have had a choice of letting their men go altogether, taking a chance on picking up a new crew, or of feeding the men for an indefinite time, which grew more indefinite as the season advanced. On the whole, there has been very fair dealing with the men, although this has not always been repaid by good service.

Under the long stretch of idleness, a great many of the men have left the district, returning to homes elsewhere and they are not likely to come back. This brings its own difficulty in finding men as they are required. A good many of the workmen, coming in groups of three or four from the same part of Canada, live entirely on the group system. If one hires on, all must hire. If one quits, all quit. It puts the employer in a hole at times, and some would prefer that the men all came from different parts and had no pledge to each other. There have been quite a number of instances where valuable time has been lost in trying to get together a satisfactory outfit. It is expected that the choice of men will be much more limited as colder weather draws on.

One employer, who has kept his crew together ever since threshing season started, has no regrets despite the long slack periods. His present crew has worked for him for the past two or three years and has been most satisfactory. If he let them all go, and took a chance on a bunch of strangers, he believes that he might lose more through waste, breakages or carelessness than he would have saved. During the idle spells he feeds the men without charge to them. A number of others tried to follow this policy during the early part of the season but with the periodic layoffs, the mounting expense, and the men's discontent in continued inaction, they finally gave up and let the outfits go.

Under any circumstances this is unlikely to be a profitable season for the threshing outfits, no matter what method they may use to save expenses. A full month rolled by from Sept. 4 to Oct. 7 in course of which there have been about 11 days of threshing. The price of wheat does not seem to justify any increase in threshing cost which ranges from 6 1/2 to 8 cents. The wages for the working days are mostly $3.00, with rumors of the occasional $3.50. The cost of feeding men on a crew varies with the supplies available from the farm garden or dairy, but an average frequently given is $1.00 per man per day. In idle periods this cost is reduced to some degree. Meat is the most expensive item of supplies. In addition to the inevitable costs, there is always the gamble of weather.

Keeping Provincial Road Work Going

Projects of Dominion-Provincial Will be Finished as Per Schedule.

The outbreak of another European war, which involves the Dominion of Canada as a member of the British Commonwealth, is not to interfere with various projects undertaken by the provincial and dominion governments, it appears at present.

While the war effort will prove a heavy drain on the resources of this country, there is firm confidence that dominion road projects which are nearing completion will be finished as scheduled.

Particularly is this necessary in regard to the Jasper-Lake Louise scenic highway, which is to be completed this year so that it will be opened for through traffic in the summer of 1940. Indication that the dominion government intends to finish this work is given by the fact that reductions in working crews through men enlisting have been offset by additional men being employed.

The same situation exists on the Big Bend section of the Trans-Canada highway where crews working from the eastern and western sides of the project expect to finish operations this season.

The Provincial Government of Alberta has announced that works projects will be continued, and if weather conditions permit these will be wound up as planned by October 15.

Despite these stressful times, when the war effort takes precedence over all other claims in view of the national emergency, it is hoped that highway

Red Cross Work

the severance of diplomatic relations. It is a volunteer organization, seeking to co-ordinate the efforts of all persons who undertake voluntary war work such as the manufacture of hospital supplies, the knitting of garments, the packaging of this material and the shipment of these packages to the depots from which they are distributed by His Majesty's forces.

Red Cross first came into existence in October, 1863, when a conference of the representatives of 16 nations met in Geneva. A second conference was held in 1864 and resulted in the signing of the famous Geneva Convention. This conference also laid down the established basis that a red cross on a white ground should be used not only by the medical services of the various armies, but also by duly recognized relief societies constituted at this time as auxiliaries to the medical services, and that these services were to be known as Red Cross Societies. Among the 12 principles of the Red Cross, and to which the governments have subscribed themselves in so far as acceptance is concerned, are that these societies: Must be recognized by the government as auxiliary to the army medical corps; must adopt as emblem a red cross on a white ground; must be open to nations without any distinctions particularly as regards sex, religion or political opinion; must be pledged to prepare themselves in peace-time for war-time work, and must be so formed as not to exclude any appropriate branch of medical work in connection with the fighting services.

Through its efforts in the last war, $9,073,485 was raised for its purposes in addition to $6,250,000 for the British Red Cross. Supplies totalling a value of $20,000,000 were sent overseas in addition to the funds which were devoted to financing hospitals, equipping and manning them, purchasing and operating ambulance units, etc. The finest hospital in France, according to medical authorities, was the Red Cross hospital built and equipped by Canada at Vincennes near Paris. The record of the last war accomplished only by the goodwill of the Canadian people, the willingness of other organizations to co-operate with the Red Cross and eliminate confusion, overlapping and duplication, and the generosity of donations from rich and poor. The Red Cross again faces a similar task. And this time it faces this duty with added responsibility of a peace-time program which has become an important factor in Canadian life and must be continued.

programs, long advocated by motorists and now near the point of realization, will be completed.—Voice of Motorist.

British buying agencies have been in Canada considering wheat deals, but there is no important development that would tend to raise the price of wheat to any degree. Overseas sales have been small in recent days. The price of flour continues to be all out of line with wheat prices.

Astrologers claim that the present conflict of nations will fade out, but internal political conflict in many of the nations is near. They see economic troubles in United States and Canada; sickness and disease as a result of present war scare; accidents, murders, political strife.
